McKee Says Farewell to Prominent Business Man

Charles "Poodle" Marcum

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

Many of us have never known a time when he wasn't there on Main Street. For many, the tools and appliances that lined the sidewalk in front of his store have been as much a part of McKee as the old courthouse. He was there long before the stoplight made its appearance.

Charles "Poodle" Marcum was born March 3, 1931 in Jackson County and departed this life Tuesday, April 3, 2012 at the Masters Nursing Home in Tennessee, being 81 years of age. He was the son of the late Houston & Elvira (Gabbard) Marcum.

As a young man of 21 years, Poodle took his spot

ATV Accident Sends Emergency Responders Scrambling

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

A call came in to dispatch around 4:30 pm on Easter Sunday reporting an ATV accident near the South Fork bridge along Hwy 89 close to the Estill County line. The call indicated a female had plunged over a 20-foot cliff while 4-wheeling in the area. Upon arriving in the region where they thought the accident had occurred the area was too difficult to travel and emergency responders decided to call in a 4-wheeler rescue unit.

In the meantime, a second call was received at dispatch at hour later describing a similar ATV accident but was, instead, located in the New Zion Gray Hawk area. A second ambulance was dispatched to that location. When the second ambulance arrived they found that friends of Ms. Annetta Smith, 37, of Berea, KY had used their own vehicles to retrieve her from the accident site and moved her to a residence on Mary Kay Isaacs road. Emergency workers soon realized that both calls were made in reference to the single accident. The New Zion Baptist Church was used as a loading zone and Smith was flown to UK hospital with what was described by the authorities as moderate injuries.

Construction is underway at the Tyner Elementary Wastewater Wetland.

4th Annual Poetry Night at JCHS A Grand Success

Jerry Sparks
Senior Reporter

For the fourth year in a row the annual poetry night was so successful it could barely fit into a single room or a single night. The library at the JCHS was packed to capacity. Mrs. Sue Smith and the English Department brought the Kentucky Poet Laureate Mr. Gurney Norman in as guest speaker. Mr. Gurney was insightful and entertaining; however, even he admitted that it was the students that stole the night. "I have been very impressed at the feelings and the level of maturity that have been

Consumer alert issued for fake GED® tests

Submitted by Joey Neeley

The Continuing Adult Education program along with Kentucky Adult Education, a unit of the Council on Postsecondary Education, wanted to make everyone aware of a consumer alert regarding fraudulent websites claiming to offer high school and GED® diplomas for a fee through the Internet.

"Kentuckians need to know there is one way to earn a GED® credential and that is through a test administered onsite at an Official GED Testing Center™," said Reecie Stagnolia, vice president for Kentucky Adult Education.

Only a state may issue the GED® test credential. The GED® tests are not available online as claimed on these websites. The exam, which takes more than seven hours to complete, is administered only at Official GED Testing Centers™.

Many of the same misleading websites also offer GED® instruction for a fee. Kentucky Adult Education offers free instruction online through local adult education centers and offers classes in every Kentucky county.

For a limited time, Kentuckians can also take advantage of free GED® testing. The GED® test consists of a series of five tests that measure achievement in subject areas associated with a high school program of study. The GED Testing Service®, the provider of these tests, has strict policies regarding test administration.

Nearly 800,000 adults across the country take the GED® test each year on their path to better jobs, training and education.

In 2010-11, Kentucky Adult Education awarded 10,294 GED® credentials. The GED Testing Service® has created the first online repository where educators and test-takers can get assistance in spotting a suspicious claim. The site has a list of fraudulent websites, information about how to determine legitimate accreditation, and an area to report suspected fraud.

Visit www.GEDtestingservice.com/fraud to learn more and read the press release. For more information on taking free classes and taking the GED® for free through June 30, 2012, visit www.KnowHow2GOKy.org.

as a businessman in McKee across the street from the old courthouse. In 1952 Poodle bought Eldon Smith’s half of the plumbing and hardware store (GE) and became a joint partner with his brother, Jerry Marcum. Two years later (1954) Jerry left for Indiana and sold the business completely to Poodle. For a period spanning over half a century he was a presence on Main Street McKee. With only a third grade education he managed to become a successful and powerful businessman.

“Poodle led an eventful life,” said his brother Paul Marcum. “Right or wrong. Good or bad. He was always Poodle.” In addition to his business interests Poodle was very active in politics for over 50 years. He helped many with their needs at the hardware store and interacted with many of the local businesses as they needed plumbing and electric supplies and services. Over time he garnered a lot of local, state and even federal influence that translated into political power. As such it was perhaps inevitable that he became a divisive figure in the community. Poodle became either famous or infamous depending on opinion and practically everyone had an opinion. For those he helped he was a buoy in the storm. For those on the other side of the political debate or the business deal, he was part of the problem.

Human beings are complicated and defy simple summation. Poodle was a dedicated father, shrewd businessman, hard worker and cunning politician. He helped many people in Jackson County that were in trouble or down on their luck. He also made some big mistakes and enemies along the way. Regardless of which side you were on one or which facet you remember one must appreciate that Poodle has been a big part of the history of McKee. For over 50 years his opinion mattered. For over 50 years, his storefront was the snapshot picture of Main Street defining the image of McKee for the entire lives of many of us.

As the funeral procession traveled to the family cemetery the hearse made a detour and took one last trip around the block. Circling the courthouse it slowed as it passed the Marcum Electric storefront. As it drove away one knew that an era was ending and McKee would never be the same.

METH

From the front

Keith Berry and KSP Glen Reed found a 1-step meth lab in the back seat of a red 4-door passenger Toyota being driven by Mr. Joshua Ray Spoonamore, 26 of Mount Vernon. Mr. Spoonamore was engaged in an argument with his girl friend in the parking lot and her mother had placed the call to dispatch requesting help. Spoonamore had an outstanding warrant in Madison County and he was arrested and taken to the Madison County Detention Center. Drug related charges are pending until evidence regarding the meth lab can be presented to the Jackson County grand jury when they meet next month.

A second meth lab was found on a side road off Hwy 421 in Gray Hawk between two houses. A drug enforcement/special investigations unit was brought in to dismantle the lab. While no one was charged the sheriff’s department indicated that traceable evidence was found associated with the lab and the investigation is ongoing with possible charges pending.

shown by the students tonight,” Gurney remarked.

The students read from the established literature as well as from their original works. One student read a poem from local poet Travis Sparks (see A-7 for poem). Poets from the JCHS senior class challenged those from the junior class to a poetry slam and proved victorious. Mrs. Smith wanted to express a special thanks to all the students and parents that represented the art of poetry. Mrs. Heather Smith (FCS Class), Loretta Gilbert (Title I), Jennifer Lake (JCHS Librarian), Angie Tincher (YSC), the entire JCHS English Department, Jeania Young and Mr. Hays (JCHS Principal) helped make the night a success.

Jackson County School Superintendent Mike Smith along with Loretta Gilbert, Elizabeth Norris and other Jackson County administrative staff met with other representatives from neighboring school districts and Berea College personnel to join April Pieper from the Kentucky Department of Education on Wednesday, March 28 to discuss transitional interventions for preparing students to be college and career ready. With the passage of Senate Bill 1, Kentucky entered into a new era in public education that focuses on (1) better preparing students for life after high school and (2) college and career readiness for all. The overall goal is to increase the percentage of students who are college and career ready and to increase the average freshman graduation rate.

The group discussed several strategies which either have been or will be implemented in the districts to accomplish the goals.

NOTICE FROM THE JACKSON COUNTY SHERIFF’S DEPARTMENT

In the last several weeks, the Sheriff’s Office has received numerous complaints about 4-wheelers on local roadways late at night. As a courtesy to the citizens of Jackson County, the Sheriff’s Department wanted to make sure that all citizens are familiar with the atv laws which is KRS189.515 restrictions on operations of all terrain vehicles.

KRS189.515 states, except for vehicles authorized to operate on a public highway as of July 15, 1998 and except as provided in sub section 6 of this section, A person shall not operate an atv upon any public highway or roadway or upon the right of way of any public highway or roadway. The only exception, a person may operate an tav on any two lane public highway if the operator is engaged in farm or agricultural related activities, construction, road maintenance or snow removal. A person operating an tav under this sub section shall restrict the operation to daylight hours, except when engaged in snow removal or emergency road maintenance.

If deputies are called in reference to a complaint, the person could be charged with the above stated law. The Sheriff’s Department wants everyone to be safe and enjoy their summer activities, however, the citizens also have the right to not be disturbed by activities of others at unreasonable hours of the day or night.

Thank you,

TRUE VINE

INSPIRATIONAL THOUGHTS INTO GOD'S WORD

Author: Lynetta Hunter truevinebook.com

1 Samuel 16:1-13

It could have been that David wasn't invited to the feast, or maybe he turned down the invitation because of his faithfulness as a shepherd. Either way, it really didn't matter; he wasn't considered a likely prospect for the position of next king of Israel. His brothers were the warriors, with greater military experience and appearance that fit the title. David was the youngest of his seven brothers and probably reminded of it often. David might have seemed unimportant to those around him, but was of major importance to God and His kingdom. God had filled David's life with teachings and evidence of His power. His defeat of killing a lion and bear from harming his sheep was victory on the bottom rung of a ladder that led up to David being an awesome king of Israel, as well as the ancestral reign of Jesus Christ as Savior of the world.

Jesse, their father, beckoned David's brothers to pass before Samuel one by one, each anxious to be pointed out and anointed by Samuel as the next king. No doubt, they were spruced up and looked the part, keeping their stern military postures in presentable position. Confusion was in the air when neither one of them were chosen. Samuel knew he hadn't heard God wrong when He told him Jesse's son would be the one, so he asked Jesse if he had any more children. The reply was probably something like, 'well.... yeah.... but.... could it possibly be?.... he is the youngest and just a ruddy lad'. Nevertheless, Samuel had a work to do and wasn't leaving until he completed it. David was brought in, presumably still in his work clothes, as his humbleness and heart for God moved through the midst of the pride and intimidation from his brothers. David stepped into an anointing that day that would change the course of history.

In this life, we will never fully understand God's choosing and callings, or what makes the hearts of mankind different. We are sometimes as Jesse and Samuel, judging by appearance before spiritual perception. It's easy to get caught up in warfare and troubles on the frontline and not be able to see how God is preparing someone for ministry behind the scenes.

We may be the one God is preparing for a distinct gospel ministry. We may be the less likely or less sought after candidate. When Samuel looked upon the men, he noticed their leadership qualities; however, God sought out a faithful servant. David remained humble, kept integrity, and stayed repented of his mistakes. God is seeking these same assets in people today to birth the gospel of Jesus Christ through.

"A Simple Man"

Margaret Faye Hensley

Part 27

As the three of them made their way back to the house after the visit to the waterfall, Liza Jane's mind was filled with awe. She could imagine the strength of emotions her father must be experiencing as he returns to the very places where he was as a young man and how he must be reliving those feelings. I am so privileged to share in my daddy's personal memories and to visit these special places with him, she thought. Liza wondered if she would have such powerful stories to share when she was he age, or could imagine being his age. She doubted that none of her life stories could compare to what Clarence had been through in his lifetime.

It was time to feed the chickens and get supper on to cook, as they parked their four wheelers for the night. Clarence was visibly tired and sat on the porch, seemingly trying to muster the energy to go in the house to start the evening meal. Jake must have sensed his hesitation and he suggested they let someone else worry about cooking this time and he announced that they were going to a local hangout for supper and he didn't want to hear any arguing about it! It was a relief to hear this plan, as Liza found herself having very little energy also. How did Jake seem to know when to make a change in direction of their day just when they needed it?

The restaurant was small and was packed to the gills when they walked in. They were greeted warmly and within a few minutes a family got up and motioned for Liza and the men to take their empty table. The waitress recognized Clarence and Jake immediately, which convinced Liza Jane that the two men must be pretty regular customers there. Clarence was quick to introduce his daughter, to which the waitress responded that she felt like she knew Liza already after all Clarence had been telling her. Liza felt honored that her daddy had told the waitress about her, and was curious about what he had said! After the waitress took their orders, she asked Clarence what he had told the waitress about her. "Well, I only told her the truth," he said as he smiled broadly. "Spill the beans!" she told Clarence. Clarence grinned and said he couldn't remember exactly what he had said, but that he knew it had been kind words he had spoken. Jake jumped in and said, "He told her, how when you were a child, you insisted on hearing a bedtime story every night before going to sleep," Jake offered. "He told her; how he would almost always fall asleep and you would call out from the other bedroom asking him to finish the story!" Liza laughed and looked at her daddy, and noticed that he too, had a grin on his face about what Jake had said.

The Old House by Travis Sparks (Read at Poetry Night at the JCHS)

Beside the road an old house stands:
a run down sight to see.
It is deserted and oh, so quiet:
not what it used to be.

There was a time when it was new,
and always occupied.
The people have all moved away,
and many of them have died.

Beneath the weeds in big front yard,
some jonquils are in bloom.
Planted there, many years ago,
by a young and happy groom.

The swing that hung on wide front porch,
is laying on the floor.
Bramble bushes have grown so big,
they almost hide front door.

The shingles on the roof are curled,
from middle to the end.
It looks as if this old house,
doesn't have an earthly friend.

The paint that once adorned this house,
has worn off through the years.
Rusty eave troughs, full of holes,
it seems that no one cares.

The window panes are broken out:
from rain there is no protection.
Bats are flying in and out:
coming from every direction.

Let's walk inside and take a look,
inside this house once more.
Up the walk onto the porch,
then through the big front door.

The front door knob is broken off,
one hinge is rusted too.
It caused the door to stand ajar,
and let the sunlight through.

The floors are sagged and falling down,
some of the boards are gone.
Some are sound, some are decayed,
with moss a growing on.

The paper on the wall is loose,
and frayed around the op.
The ceiling has no paper on:
it has already dropped.

A fireplace stands in living room,
it is built of sandstone rock.
Upon its mantle years ago,
there set an eight day clock.

The clock is goon, but time moves on,
it doesn't wait for anyone.
Then somewhere, on down the road,
there is a setting of the sun.

This old house is beyond repair:
it has been neglected for too long.
If it had received the proper care,
it could still be someone's home.

"...the best benefit of this program is that it literally cut our electric use in half!"

Rita Chrisman was so impressed with the impact her Jackson Energy Prepay Meter had on her energy bill that she sat down and wrote a letter!

In her letter, Rita explains that previously her winter electric bills would run above $500, but with the new Prepay Meter, bills dropped to just above $200...who wouldn't be excited with savings like that! She does such a great job of explaining how it works that we have posted her letter on our MyJacksonEnergy.com website for all members to read.

Thanks for sharing, Rita! Because of your experience we're sure many others will check out this energy-saving service!

Lady Generals Get Good Win Over Jackson City

Jerry Sparks

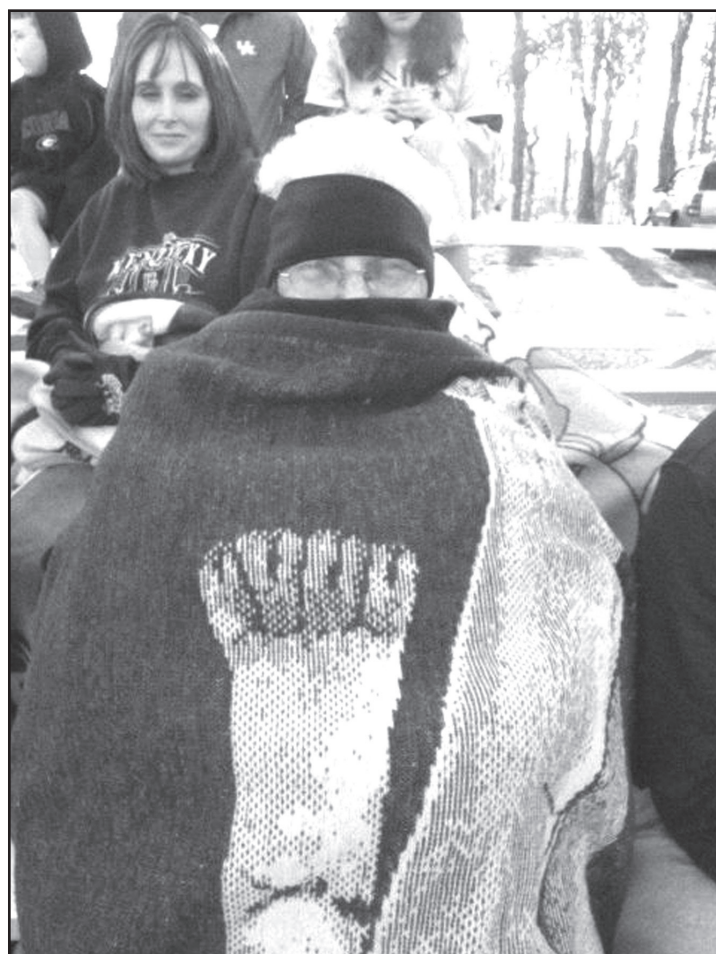

Senior Reporter
In collaboration with Lady Generals
Coaching Staff

According to their coaches, the Lady Generals put a strong effort on the field against Jackson City. "Jackson City was a strong hitting team but our fielding was strong and were able to beat them 10-6. Very good win for our girls, Jackson City was as strong team," said assistant Coach Crystal Miller.

The Generals were not as fortunate on the road against Berea last Monday evening. "Berea is a good team with a strong program. We struggled at the bat and gave up too many runs through errors. Our team played a bit sluggish and we got beat 0-10," said Miller.

The Lady Generals are now 3-3 on the season.

The schedule for the upcoming week is as follows:

The JCHS honored the distinguished students and parents at a luncheon last week. Mr. Hays said, "We would like to thank all of our students for working diligently in class and on their test. We could not do this without the support of the Central Office, Title I, Mrs. Loretta Gilbert, our teachers and support staff for helping to coordinate and organize this luncheon. Thanks to our "cooks"...Ms. Heather Smith, Mr. Doug Wilson and Mr. Stuart Maiden and those who helped set up the physical structure, which looked so pleasing in the gym. A special thanks to the parents for taking time to come along with the encouragement and support provided to their children."

We believe in ordinary acts of bravery, in the courage that drives one person to stand up for another."
Divergent

By Veronica Roth

Morgan Greer

At age 16 all teenagers, including Beatrice Prior, must choose to join one of the five factions as outlined by their government. These factions are based upon personality traits that determine one's role within the government. The factions from which they must choose are Abnegation (selflessness), Candor (honesty), Amity (peacefulness), Erudite (intelligence), or Dauntless (bravery). During Beatrice's test something strange happens. Her test determines that she is Divergent, meaning that she is suited for more than one faction. However, if the government officials discover that she is divergent, her life will be in jeopardy.

Beatrice, who was originally born into Abnegation, is torn between leaving her family and all that she knew for the Dauntless faction; the faction for which she is best suited. Once the choosing ceremony is complete, the initiation process begins. And only through initiation can she become a Dauntless. Her very first challenge was to jump onto a moving train to reach the compound only to jump into the center of a black hole with no bottom. Beatrice was the first to jump and was rewarded the title of "first jumper." It was at this time that Beatrice becomes Tris.

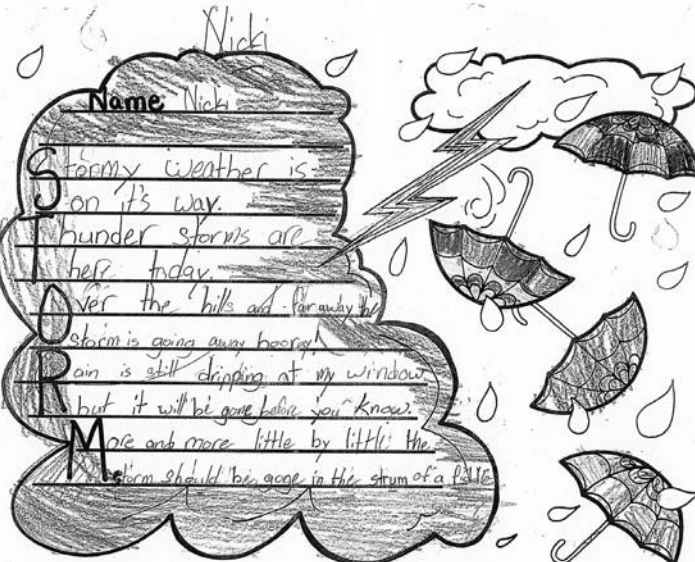

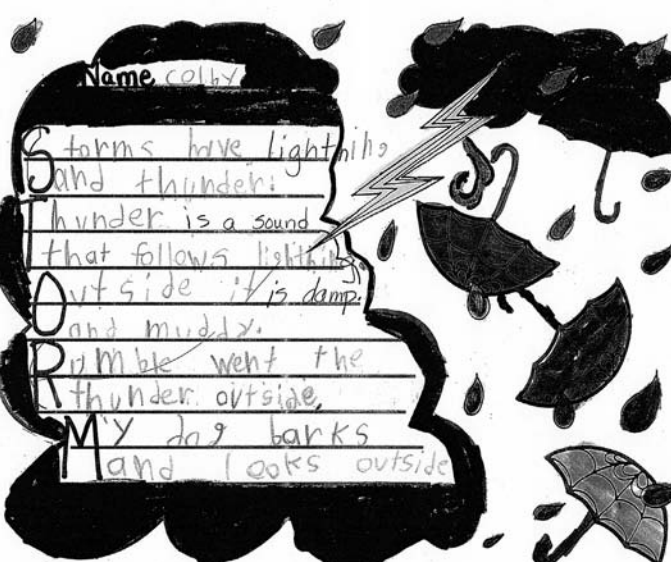

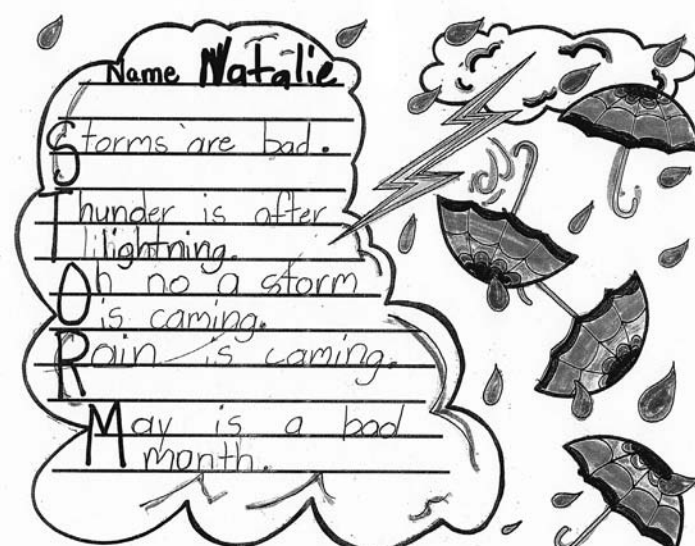

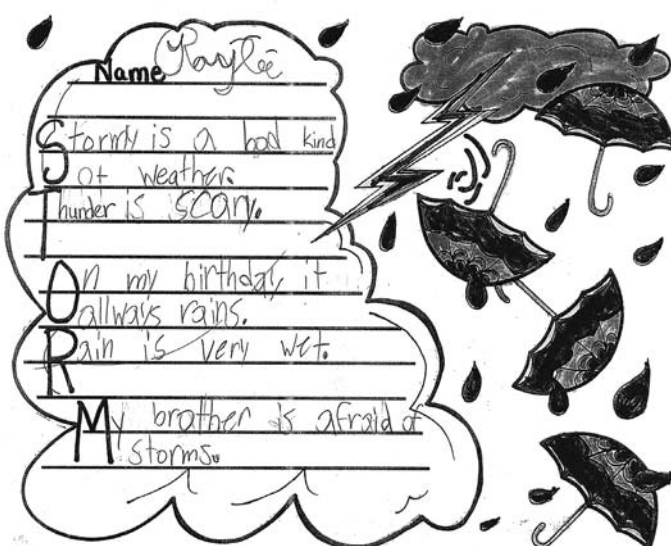

Tris soon discovers that something is just not right about Dauntless, the government, and the people making the decisions. Could rebellion be brewing? And what makes a Divergent so lethal to the government? Can Tris survive? And what about her family; will she ever see them again?

Veronica Roth's Divergent proves to captivate with its thrilling story and characters. Even in this world of Divergent where everyone's supposed to have one dominant trait, characters are still extremely complex. Beatrice Prior or Tris is a well-rounded character that could keep anyone wanting to read. She is a small girl with blonde hair and gray blue eyes. While in the Abnegation faction she was an inquisitive, kind, and most of the time a selfless person. Her switch to the Dauntless faction proved to open her character up more, yet she did not lose her previous traits, showing that she is what some may call an adrenaline junkie. Tris tends to get herself into situations which test her bravery or cause her harm in some way.

Divergent grabbed my attention from the very beginning and held it until the very last word. This book will draw you into the story as if you were a character as well causing you to question which faction you might be in and what you would do in the situation that Tris finds herself in. The twist in this book will keep you guessing and begging for the next book, Insurgent. I highly recommend Divergent to anyone looking for a fast paced, sci-fi book full of action and a touch of romance.

Community Collaboration for Children NATIONAL CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION

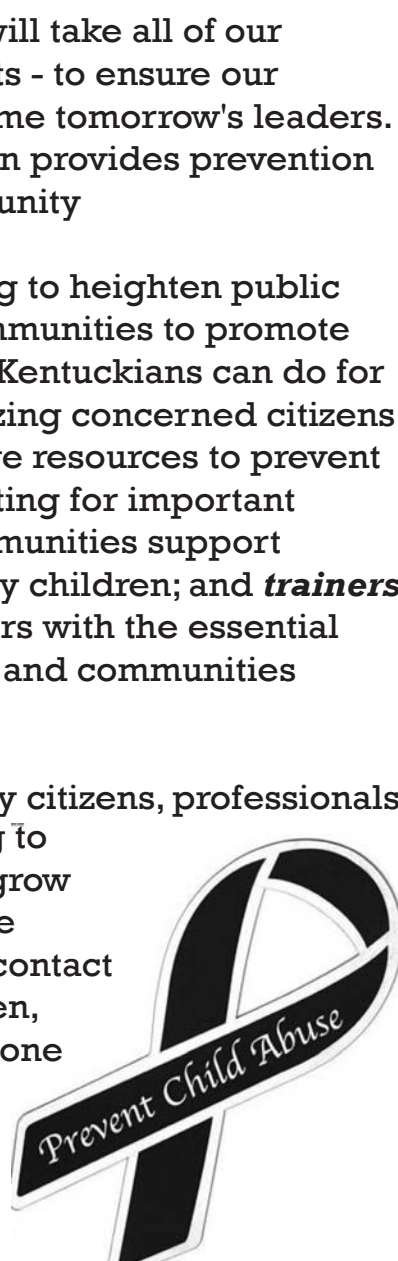

Today's children are Kentucky's future leaders, parents and workers. Our state's further prosperity depends on their healthy development and growth. With the support of engaged communities and nurturing families, all of Kentucky's children can thrive and have the opportunity to grow into caring, contributing and healthy adults. Community Collaboration for Children reminds Kentuckians that helping our communities and families create healthy, nurturing environments for children is one of the best investments Kentucky can make.

Preventing child abuse and neglect will take all of our efforts - from policy-makers to parents - to ensure our children have the foundation to become tomorrow's leaders. Community Collaboration for Children provides prevention based in-home services to the community

Together we act as educators working to heighten public awareness of the need for caring communities to promote healthy child development and what Kentuckians can do for our next generation; partners organizing concerned citizens and groups to join forces and leverage resources to prevent child maltreatment; catalysts advocating for important programs and policies that help communities support parents and help parents raise healthy children; and trainers providing professionals and volunteers with the essential skills and knowledge to help parents and communities prevent child abuse and neglect.

Together with the support of Kentucky citizens, professionals and decision-makers, we are working to ensure Kentucky's youngest citizens grow up in nurturing homes and responsive communities. For more information, contact Community Collaboration for Children, P. O. Box 568, Corbin, KY 40702 or phone 606-526-6303.

This project is funded, in part, under a contract with the Cabinet for Health and Family Services through Community Collaboration for Children using state funds allocated by the Kentucky General Assembly.

CRP Sign-up Deadline Extended to April 13

The USDA Farm Service Agency announced the sign-up deadline for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been extended to April 13.

After the CRP general sign-up ends on April 13, FSA will evaluate offers based on cost and the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). The EBI takes into consideration variables such as wildlife habitat, water quality protection, soil erosion reduction, air quality protection and other enduring benefits. Accepted offers will become effective October 1, 2012.

Producers with expiring contracts and producers with environmentally sensitive land are encouraged to evaluate their options under CRP.

Producers are urged to contact their local FSA service center or visit FSA's website at fsa.usda.gov for additional information regarding CRP.

USDA Announces Milk Income Loss Contract Program Payment Rate for February Production

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director John W. McCauley announces the February payment rate for the Milk Income Loss Contract (MILC) program. The February MILC payment rate is $0.3895043 per hundredweight. This is the first time there has been a payment for MILC since April 2010.

"Dairy producers are affected by the market price for milk and the price of feed to sustain their herds," said McCauley. "While milk prices have remained above the $16.94 base used in the MILC calculation, the increase in feed prices has triggered payments because of the feed ration component."

MILC payments are triggered when the Boston Class I milk price falls below $16.94 per hundredweight, after adjustment for the cost of dairy feed rations. MILC payments are calculated each month using the latest milk price and feed cost.

The 2008 Farm Bill authorized MILC through Sept. 30, 2012. Producers must meet the Average Adjusted Gross Income requirement and provide marketing data to the FSA County Office in order to qualify. New dairy producers can apply for program benefits anytime through Sept. 30, 2012, at local FSA offices.

Additional information about the MILC program can be found at http://www.fsa.usda.gov/Internet/FSA_File/milc2011.pdf, or by visiting a local FSA Service Center.

Spike in motorcycle crashes prompts KSP to launch social media safety blitz KSP reports that 2012 has already shown a spike in motorcycle-related crashes with a 69 percent increase from 2011 for the same time period. For this reason, KSP has decided to utilize their best asset for reaching the public – social media. With over 40,000 followers on Facebook®, 2,900 followers on Twitter® and an active YouTube®, Flickr® and Blogger® account, the agency plans to blast out motorcycle safety messaging via these platforms.

KSP Spokesman Lt. David Jude called on his staff to get 'proactive' about motorcycle safety when he reviewed the weekly FARS report (Fatality Analysis Reporting System) showing the spike in motorcycle crashes.

"With the unseasonably warm weather we are having, more bikes are out on the road earlier than what motorists are used to seeing," says Jude. "With a nearly 70 percent increase in motorcycle related crashes already this year, we need to get in front of this trend and stop the unnecessary injuries and deaths on our roadways."

Jude advised that the agency plans a weeklong social media campaign that includes launching a new YouTube video about motorcycle safety, Facebook and Twitter updates with safety messaging and a blog post from KSP Commissioner Rodney Brewer about the project.

"Our principle concern is to increase driver recognition of motorcyclists in traffic, while at the same time encouraging cyclists to engage in the overall safe operation of their bikes," adds Jude.

"Being fiscally conservative, our agency does not have the financial resources to purchase media packages. We believe that by tapping into social media, we can still have a voice in proactive messaging, but at minimal expense."

Through April 4, 2012, there have been 249 motorcycle related crashes resulting in 167 injuries and 9 deaths. When compared to crashes in 2011 for the same time period that calculates into a 69 percent increase in crashes; 75 percent increase in injuries; and 44 percent increase in deaths.

Jude said the increase in motorcycle crashes and fatalities has stepped up the emphasis on the agency's annual 'Motorcycle Safety Day' awareness program.

This will be the 5th year that the agency will host the event that includes safety exhibits, motorcycle vendors, a news conference and a police escorted ride through scenic Kentucky. This program is scheduled for Friday, June 22, 2012 at KSP Headquarters in Frankfort.

In addition to Safety Day, KSP will offer a free three-hour motorcycle safety seminar on May 17, 2012, taught by a certified Motorcycle Safety Foundation RiderCoach.

"There's often an obstacle facing new riders," says Jude. "They'd like to buy their first bike or maybe upgrade to a newer, more powerful one, but worry about their ability to handle it safely. Rider education programs are the answer for both beginning and seasoned riders. We advocate attending refresher courses that help riders keep their edge by sharpening their skills."

Jude said that a motorcyclist is much more vulnerable than a passenger vehicle occupant in the event of a crash. Research from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) shows that motorcyclists are 34 times more likely to die in traffic crashes than passenger car occupants.

Jude offers tips for drivers to help keep motorcyclists safe on our roadways.

- Remember, a motorcycle is a vehicle with all of the rights and privileges of any other motor vehicle.
- Always allow a motorcyclist the full lane width—never try to share a lane.
- Perform a visual check for motorcycles by checking mirrors and blind spots before entering or exiting a lane of traffic, and at intersections.
- Always signal your intentions before changing lanes or merging with traffic.
- Don't be fooled by a flashing turn signal on a motorcycle – motorcycle signals are often not self-canceling and riders sometimes forget to turn them off. Wait to be sure the motorcycle is going to turn before you proceed.
- Allow more following distance - three or four seconds - when behind a motorcycle so the motorcyclist has enough time to maneuver or stop in an emergency.
- Never tailgate. In dry conditions, motorcycles can stop more quickly than cars.
- Never drive while distracted.
